

Are you Out of the Ordinary?

At Six Senses we seek individuals who share our values as a means of reinforcing and furthering the group's successful philosophy.

Six Senses Laamu is currently seeking to hire:

Marine Biology Research Intern (Maldivian national only)

The Research Intern will work closely with the Research Coordinator to implement the research plan for 2019. Priorities include studying Six Senses Laamu's seagrass meadows in support of its #ProtectMaldivesSeagrass campaign and conducting baseline monitoring for a future marine protected area in Laamu. This would involve assisting in monitoring of: coral reefs, fish and invertebrate communities, seagrass meadows and megafauna. The position will involve both fieldwork and data analysis components. The Research Intern will be guided in designing and carrying out an independent research project that aligns with the Maldives Underwater Initiative's long-term conservation goals. In addition the Research Intern will gain key skills and experience in Science Communication, School education visits and Guest Services at a 5 star resort.

Essential requirements:

- Maldivian national
- Desire to continue in a career in marine biology or conservation
- Completion of GCE A-level with minimum E grade in 3 subjects
- Confident swimmer and snorkeler, capable of diving down to at least 5 m (with own snorkel equipment)
- Willingness to learn to dive (at discounted rate), if not already qualified
- Friendly and confident with excellent verbal communication skills
- Excellent time management skills and ability to work independently
- Fluent English
- Own laptop

Please note this is a paid role of 6 months duration.

ABOUT THE MALDIVES UNDERWATER INITIATIVE

Six Senses Laamu seeks to redefine what it means to be resort marine biologists in the Maldives. The Maldives Underwater Initiative (MUI) was established in 2018 to bring together the resort and like-minded NGOs to work together towards marine conservation goals in Laamu atoll and beyond.

MUI is leading the tourism industry in the Maldives with meaningful marine conservation efforts based on research, education and community outreach.
